HACK

START Hack is an entrepreneurial Hackathon - But... what is a hackathon? Well, it is a technical problem-solving competition, where a community of highly-driven students comes together in order to tackle some of the biggest societal issues, partnering with companies such as Microsoft, Accenture, Bosch, Mammut & Co. For us, this is the ideal way of bringing the two worlds - technology and business - closer together to foster entrepreneurial thinking and to fuel technological innovation!

This year, in regards to the success of past Hacks, we decided to further lay our focus on increasing our societal impact, by partering with NGOs and moving to the Olma Hall to be able to welcome even more talented aspiring tech entrepreneurs!

By joining our Hack Team, you will get the opportunity to be part of a dynamic, challenging and fun environment (I mean, what's work without fun, right?). As a member of our flatley-organized team you will, therefore, get to take on responsibilites and improve your soft skills in a professional environment. Being a Hack team member also means you are willing to shape an event that empower people to develop innovative idea to change tomorrow. You think you have what it takes? Join us now!
